Opening Glimpses

From the Editor

The production of this yearbook is a case in which the original editor abandoned ship before it reached shore.

When I began work on it in the fall of 2008, many pages had already been printed and the theme had been established by the previous editor. I had to fill the holes that were left. That job wasn't easy because the graduates to whom this yearbook is dedicated had already entered the "real" world and had not left much material to do that. Fortunately, skills that I gained while working in the college publications office helped me to deal with that issue and with the tight schedule.

Many of these pages are filled with scenic photos of Hampden-Sydney College and its beautiful surroundings. I hope this Kaleidoscope will bring back good memories of some of the best years of your lives. Enjoy!

Student Life

Student Life

Student Government

Hampden-Sydney has a long tradition of student involvement in College affairs. Students serve as members of the faculty's Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, Lectures and Programs, and Athletic Committees. In addition, students are named to various task forces, ad hoc committees, and often, to search committees seeking key College officers.

Clubs & Organizations

The International Club

The International Club became a part of the H-SC community in the 2004-2005 academic year. The founding members had the idea that the international and other culturally interested students should be represented by a club of their own. Ever since then, the International Club has grown quite significantly and is one of the most active clubs on campus today. The International Club aims to foster relations through cultural awareness and promote understanding among various cultures at Hampden-Sydney College. Every semester the club hosts a series of cultural and social events in which many faculty members and students participate.

Minority Student Union (MSU)

The Minority Student Union is in its sixth year of existence. The MSU was established to educate as well as make the Hampden-Sydney community aware of different cultures and backgrounds that exist on campus. Moreover, this organization provides its members with an environment to express views and concerns that are unique to minorities.

Union Philanthropic Literary Society (UPLS)

For over two centuries, the Union-Philanthropic Society has offered Hampden-Sydney a unique forum for discussion. Whether debating the ethics of slavery — in 1810 — or discussing the various views of the historical Jesus — in 1996 — the Society has continually provided the College with an unparalleled source for the oratorical and literary improvement of her sons.

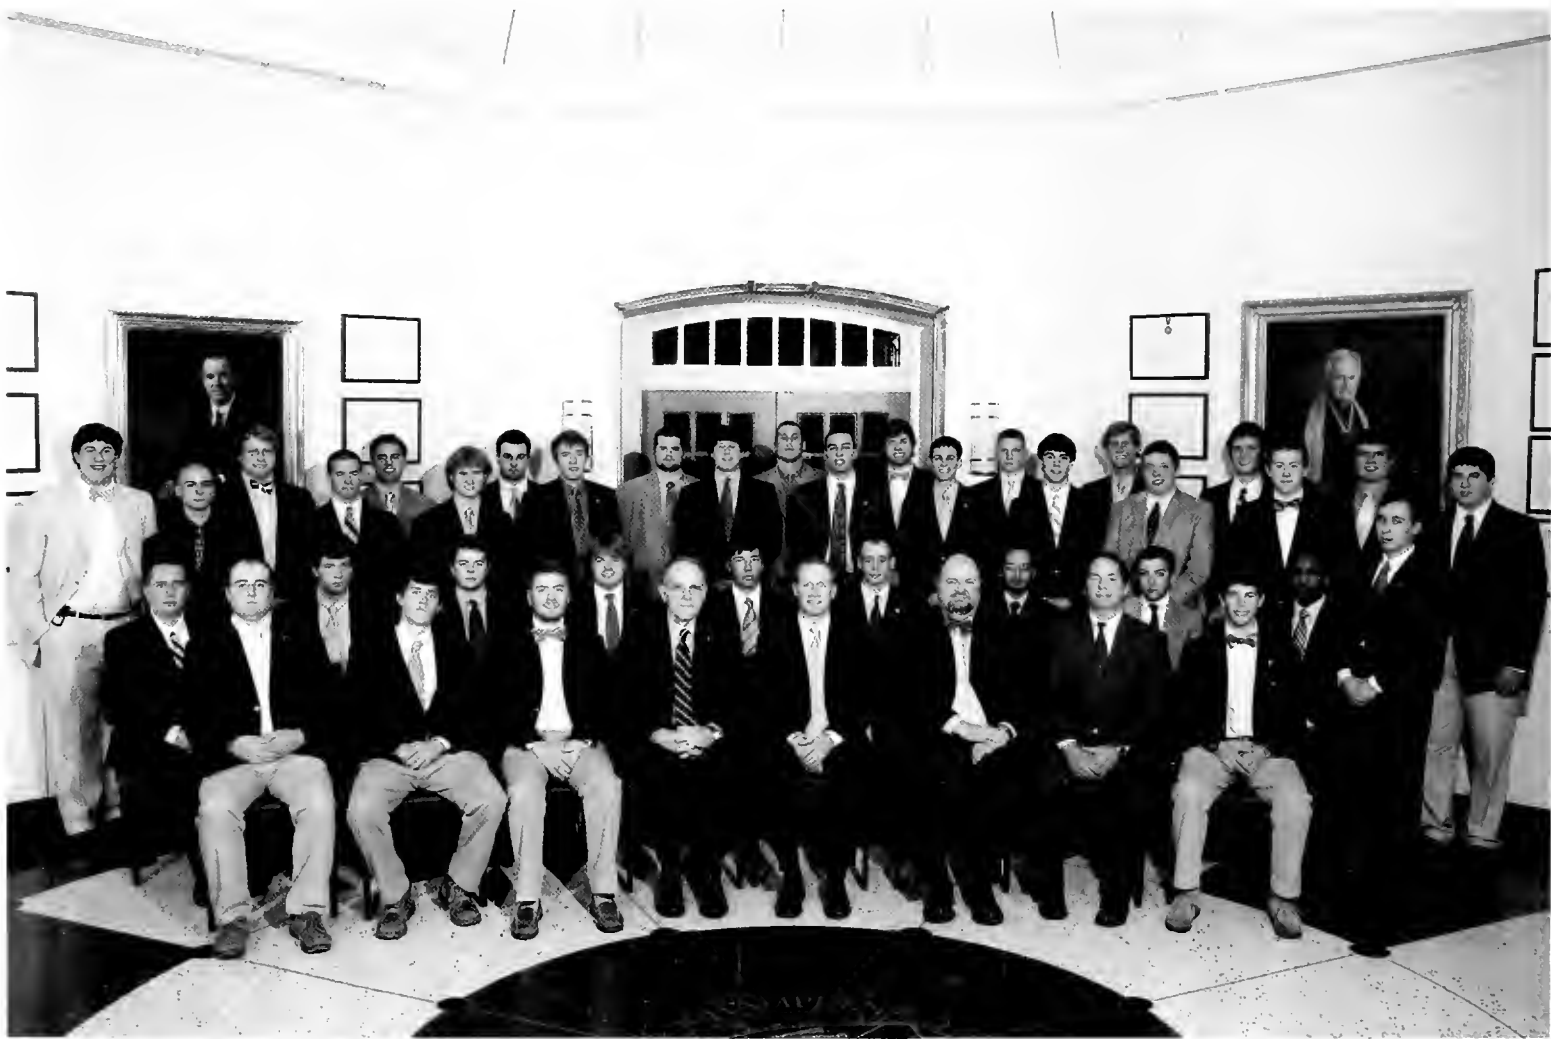

Rather than narrowly focus on a single subject, the Society has long complemented the College's liberal curriculum by addressing topics from a variety of issues. Each week, the Society analyzes a different item from literature, politics, or the arts. The Society's exercises quickly train its members to think clearly, argue coherently, and speak forcefully on any topic.

The oldest student organization at the College and the second-oldest debating society in America, the Union-Philanthropic dates from 1789. Edward Henry, the son of Virginia's greatest orator, and William Henry Harrison, the ninth president of the United States, were among its early members. Yet the society has never been simply a student organization, and its influence has never stopped at the College gates. Men from all backgrounds, from Henry Wadsworth Longfellow to Robert E. Lee, have been awarded — and have accepted — honorary membership.

Society of '91

This program, through specially designed classes, events, and experiences, seeks to empower students with information, insights, and self-knowledge to motivate and enable them to make wise choices; have students act with honesty and integrity and on principle; help students to live lives exhibiting positive attitudes, behavior, and sound values; empower students to be good citizens; encourage students to be people worthy of emulation - leaders by example as well as by action; equip students with skills and abilities effectively to assume and carry out current and future leadership responsibilities; influence for the better those around them; contribute to the commonweal throughout their lives.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honor society for college men and women. It was founded in 1914 at Washington & Lee University to recognize and encourage superior scholarship and leadership by men and women of exemplary character. Membership in ODK is a mark of highest distinction and honor. The Lambda Circle was founded at Hampden-Sydney on April 12, 1924, and is the eleventh oldest of the society's more than 200 circles.

Phi Beta Kappa

The Eta of Virginia chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society annually elects a limited number of juniors and seniors to membership. In electing these members in course, the Chapter seeks to recognize academic attainment, moral character, responsible citizenship, and a broad intellectual curiosity. No more than 10% of a prospective graduating class can be elected.

St. Patrick's Day

This year's St. Patrick's Day celebration at Hampden-Sydney College took place with great spirit. On Monday, March 17, the campus community observed the College's first-ever St. Patrick's Day parade, which marched down College Road and Via Sacra. Students, faculty, and campus children took part in the celebration. Everyone was on the street, watching the floats pass by and rejoicing to the sounds and beats of the parade.

Football

In a year marked by a roller-coaster of events and emotions, the Tigers had an incredible season, broke countless records, and ultimately surpassed all outside expectation by capturing the school's fifth ODAC Championship and first title since 1987. Following a challenging 2006 season which saw Hampden-Sydney post a 4-6 overall record, few people outside the Tiger program believed that Hampden-Sydney would resurface into the top of the ODAC. The Tigers were still struggling to replace the program's most prolific passer in J.D. Ricca, and the Hampden-Sydney defense needed to adjust to a new staff. Piling on the challenges for 2007 was the fifth-place ODAC finish forecasted in the ODAC preseason poll and the fact that Coach Favret's powerful offensive scheme was forced to rely on young talent up front to light up the Fulton Field scoreboard.

Hampden-Sydney overcame many obstacles en route to their fifth ODAC Football Championship, and broke countless records just as gracefully as they shattered expectations. The Tigers placed ten players on the All-ODAC team, including Drew Smith, who garnered ODAC Offensive Player of the Year accolades. Simpson, Baumgartner, and offensive lineman Eric Mendel joined Smith on the ODAC first team. Coach Favret was named ODAC Coach of the Year, his second such award. The honors were endless for Smith, as he was named a first team AFCA All-American, named to the D3football.com South Region first team, was crowned the Division II/III/NAIA Dudley Award winner and was a regional finalist for the Gigliardi Trophy, given to the most outstanding Division III football player.

Soccer

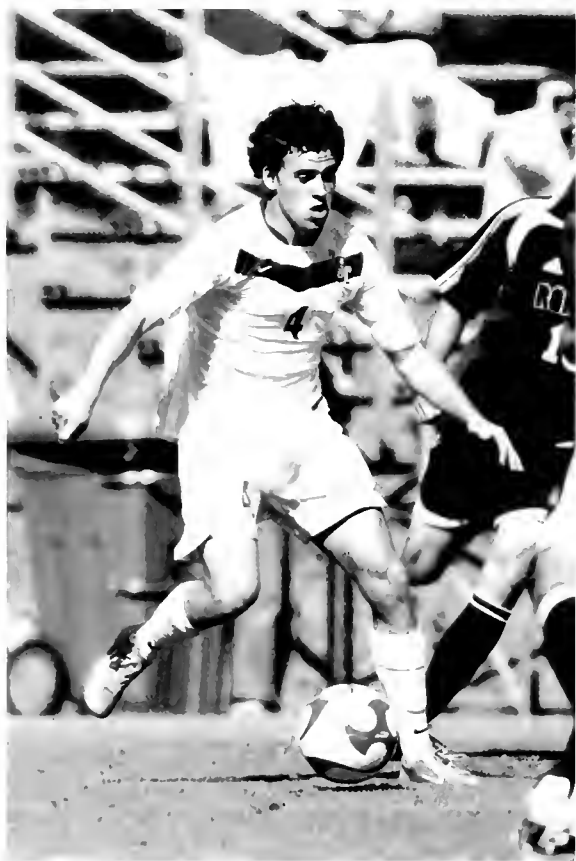

Digging out from a sluggish 1-4 start to their season, the young 2007 Hampden-Sydney soccer team regrouped and responded to piece together a fantastic 2007 campaign. The Tigers went 10-2-3 to close the season, compiling 11 wins, a 6-1-2 ODAC record, securing the No. 2 seed in the ODAC Tournament (where the squad eventually fell in a 2-1 heartbreaker to third-seeded Washington and Lee in the semifinals courtesy of a penalty kick) and finishing the season ranked No. 7 in the South Region by the NSCAA.

Hampden-Sydney proved that it is on the right track and built up plenty of momentum for 2008. The 11 victories were the most ever for head coach Josh Laux in his four seasons at the helm, and the most for Hampden-Sydney since 2002, as the Tigers reached the semifinals of the ODAC Tournament for the first time since 2001. The team closed out the regular season with four wins and a tie, including strong victories over 2006 ODAC Champion Lynchburg (2-0) and eventual 2007 ODAC Champion Roanoke (4-1).

The Tigers placed six players on the ODAC all-conference teams. Junior midfielder Jason Butler was the only Tiger selected on the first team, but was joined on the second team by junior forward Jason Powell, sophomore forward Will Robertson, and freshman defender Sam Turner.

Cross Country

The Hampden-Sydney cross country team enjoyed a solid 2007 season as the young Tigers continued to improve throughout the season. The young harriers were led by their junior captain George Heeschen. Heeschen was able to be the top Tiger finisher in every meet of the season. Hampden-Sydney saw success early having their best meets at the Longwood Invitational and the Virginia Wesleyan Invitational. In both meets Hampden-Sydney boasted a fourth place finish. The Tigers also saw great success from sophomore Robert Melvin and newcomer Daniel Isaacs. After placing seventh in the ODAC Championship, both Heeschen and Melvin competed in the NCAA Regionals. Heeschen placed 87th overall with a time of 29:03, while Melvin finished close behind him placing 90th with a personal best time of 29:08.

Basketball

The 2007-2008 Tigers had the tough task of trying to defend their ODAC Championship Title from the year before. With the loss of guards Matt Green and Mike Edwards, the job would not be an easy one. Hampden-Sydney did have the benefit of having All-ODAC post player Troy Kaase back for the season after a season-ending knee injury sidelined him for most of his junior campaign. Joining Kaase at the helm would be fellow senior captains Drew Prehmus and Tyler Murray.

Hampden-Sydney started the season against a very tough Averett University. Though the Tigers took a tough 99-83 loss to open the season, they would respond incredibly well reeling off seven straight victories, including a home win over that same Averett team, and two wins to capture the Weenie Miller Holiday Hoops Tournament with wins over Suny-Old Westbury and Greensboro College. Sophomore Turner King showed his young talent and ability to take over a game as he put the Tigers on his back with 36 points in the win over Greensboro. With a solid 7-1 mark, Hampden-Sydney would stumble over the next two games, losing both road games to Guilford and Bridgewater.

Hampden-Sydney again rose to the challenge, returning home to beat Eastern Mennonite University to improve the Tigers to 9-3 on the year. Unfortunately for the Tigers, senior forward Tyler Murray suffered a season ending leg injury against EMU. Murray, averaging just shy of 10 points and six rebounds a game, was a key part of the young Tiger team. Hampden-Sydney went into a tailspin without one of their veteran leaders losing the next seven of ten games.

With an 11-10 record and the regular season nearing an end, Hampden-Sydney knew it would have to take control of the next four games and build momentum going into the conference tournament. The Tigers would breeze through the next three games with wins over Roanoke, Washington & Lee, and Lynchburg.

The Tigers faced a solid Randolph-Macon team who had already beaten them at home 72-59 earlier in the year. Though they would come close, the Yellow Jackets again prevailed, winning on their home floor 72-66 on their senior night.

Hampden-Sydney ended the regular season with a 14-11 mark and was matched up for a first round game with conference match up with rival Randolph-Macon. Just coming off of a win, all of the pressure was on the Jackets. R-MC took the early lead and kept it for just over 39 minutes. With the last possession in hand, King rose up to shoot with the seconds ticking down. King's jumper was off, but Kaase was right there to get the tip-in giving the Tiger's the 69-67 victory and a chance to play one more night. Hampden-Sydney fell just short to Virginia Wesleyan 68-55 in the Semifinals giving the Tigers a final 15-12 mark.

The Tigers were led in scoring by King's 19.3 points-per-game. He was followed by Kaase's 15.8 and Prehmus' 12.5. King would also garner first team All-ODAC honors. Kaase and Prehmus also earned second team and honorable mention ODAC honors, respectively. Prehmus was also awarded ODAC Scholar Athlete of the Year.

Tennis

Hampden-Sydney enjoyed one of its best tennis seasons in 2008. The Tigers finished 14-3 overall and nearly beat perennial favorite Washington & Lee for the ODAC Crown. The Tigers also peaked just before the fall in the finals as they were tabbed the No. 14 team in the region based on the ITA Atlantic South Region Rankings. Hampden-Sydney was yet again led by standout William Moss. Moss continued his amazing play and maintained his unblemished ODAC record. He was joined by newcomer Rich Pugh to make a solid one-two punch for the Tigers.

Hampden-Sydney's hard work all season paid off as they swept the conference awards. William Moss again won ODAC Player of the Year; Rich Pugh took home ODAC Rookie of the Year honors; Andrew McLeod was awarded ODAC/Farm Bureau Scholar-Athlete of the Year; Head Coach Murrie Bates rounded out the award winners as he was tabbed the ODAC Coach of the Year. The awards continued for Moss and Pugh as they were awarded first team All-State and All-State Rookie of the Year, respectively.

Baseball

The 2008 baseball Tigers battled all season during a roller coaster year finishing 17-25 overall, 8-10 in the ODAC, and making the conference tournament yet again. The Tigers got off to a bit of a slow start losing the first seven of eight games before a win over Villa Julie helped kick start the Tiger offense. Over the next four games, Hampden-Sydney managed to score seven runs in each game en route to winning the Floyd B. Wilcox tournament. Just as the Tigers began to find their identity, a 11-0 loss to conference foe Virginia Wesleyan would put Hampden-Sydney in an 11 game slump where Hampden-Sydney only won two games over North Carolina Wesleyan and Bridgewater.

Standing at 8-16 mid-way through the season, Hampden-Sydney looked to its senior leadership to get them back on track. In a doubleheader against Guilford College, senior pitcher Daniel Hadra did just that. His complete game shutout not only gave the Tigers a 2-0 victory, but also a boost of confidence. With the sweep of Guilford, Hampden-Sydney had a solid stretch winning six of the next 12 games before facing Roanoke in a double header to end the regular season. Hampden-Sydney needed to win just one of the games to advance to the ODAC Tournament, and after falling in the first game 4-3, the pressure was on.

Hampden-Sydney stepped up to get the 10-3 win and advance to the ODAC Tournament for the fifth straight year. Though the Tigers fought, they fell in the first two games, first overall #1 seeded Lynchburg and then to Virginia Wesleyan.

The Tigers were led greatly by their seniors. The two Tiger seniors who earned accolades were second team All-ODAC third baseman Daniel Prieto and honorable mention All-ODAC pitcher Daniel Hadra. Also leading were all-time Hampden-Sydney hits leader Todd Harrell, and the number four Tiger home run hitter David Toney.

Golf

The 2007-2008 golf team enjoyed another solid year. They were led by two seniors, Bob Boykin and Nick Combs. In the fall, Hampden-Sydney competed in five events before taking their winter break. The Tigers actually started the season at home hosting the Poplar Hill Invitational. In the 14 team event, Hampden-Sydney finished respectably in sixth place overall and saw an individual fourth place finish from Boykin. The Tigers then competed in the Ted Keller Invitational in which they had a stellar performance finishing first overall with Richard Adams and Nick Combs individually tying for fourth place. The golfers would see more success in the fall finishing fourth in the Tom O'Bryant Invitational and second in the Virginia State Intercollegiate.

The Tigers did not see the same immediate success when they came back for the spring season, but eventually shook the rust off during their four spring events. By late April, Hampden-Sydney was playing solid golf and was ready for the ODAC Championship. Out of the nine ODAC teams, the Tigers finished third overall and were paced by Richard Adams, who boasted a ninth place finish.

All season long the Tigers were led by their senior veterans. Two seniors, Boykin and Combs earned first team All-ODAC accolades after impressive seasons. Combs led the team with a 75.9 stroke average while Boykin came in right behind him with a 76.0 stroke average. Senior Rob Shrader also earned honorable mention All-ODAC honors. Shrader finished the season with a 78.4 stroke average and shot a season low 69 in the Camp LeJune Intercollegiate.

Lacrosse

The Tigers had a roller coaster year in 2008 experiencing the program's first losing season since 1993 and only its second since 1983. The Tigers showed grit in only a one-goal loss to the eventual ODAC Champions and had an exciting overtime victory over the 2006 and 2007 Champions, yet performed inconsistently in many games throughout the season. Offensively it proved to be a rebuilding year as 2007 graduated All-American midfielders Ryan Harrington and Thomas Jennings. The Tiger offense was very young with only one senior veteran in co-captain Joe Daugherty (Charlottesville, VA/St. Anne's-Belfield). The young offense would look heavily to the veteran defense, under the leadership of seniors Colin Dunn (Chevy Chase, MD/Trinity Pawling), Alex Pritzlaff (Castle Rock, CO/Kent Denver), Ian York (Charlottesville, VA/St. Anne's-Belfield), Will Ashwell (Warrenton, VA/Notre Dame Academy) to guide them. Senior goalie Phil Hage (Norfolk, VA/Norfolk Academy) was a first-year starter between the pipes.

Hampden-Sydney put seven players on the All-ODAC squad. Senior defensemen Colin Dunn and Alex Pritzlaff received first team honors. Dunn, a four-time first team All-ODAC selection, proved to be one of the best long-pole defensemen on the national level. In 2008, Dunn scooped up 66 ground balls, scored six goals, and tallied four assists. Alex Pritzlaff, another two-time All-American, had a tremendous year shadowing the opponents' top attack-man in nearly every game. Pritzlaff won 46 groundballs while keeping all opponents to a total of eight goals for the entire season. Senior defenseman Ian York earned second team honors. York, a staple in the Tiger defense had great size and speed to lock down his man. An incredibly dependable defenseman, York managed to grab 35 groundballs while adding two assists.

Seniors Kyle Frazier (Forest, VA/Virginia Episcopal) and Will Ashwell along with junior Doug Carpenter and sophomore Kyle Jett earned honorable mention accolades. A defensive midfielder, Frazier managed to scoop 42 groundballs while adding two goals and an assist. Ashwell, rounding out the talented defense, picked up 19 groundballs as well as a goal. Carpenter was the Tigers' go-to-guy on offense tallying a team high 24 goals as well as eight assists. The young Kyle Jett was not far behind as he racked up 23 goals and four assists. The standout seniors Dunn and Pritzlaff also garnered first team All-State honors. They then earned third team All-American honors. The two also competed in the North-South USILA Senior All-Star game at Harvard University. Along with Dunn and Pritzlaff, the 2008 Tigers graduated 11 seniors who amassed a total of 34 wins, 15 conference wins, an ODAC regular season first place finish in 2007, an appearance in the ODAC Championship, national rankings as high as 9th, ten All-ODAC selections, and four All-American selections.
